

One Word Pain (ROSS)

A fallen angel whisper in my hear
Words that aren't easily to forget
Like love is not the word only for a sweet romance
But also a silent scream scorching you in

First I hear my heart beating
The I hear nothing at all
Someone grab it from my chest
And now I feel how it hurts
Silence hound inside my head
Maybe I'm so foolish that
I don't understand how this pain
Is killing my brain

Nobody should have to say I love you
Because this word doesn't exist
Someone has invented it so let people like us
Bewitched to dream it

First I hear my heart beating
The I hear nothing at all
Someone grab it from my chest
And now I feel how it hurts
Silence hound inside my head
Maybe I'm so foolish that
I don't understand how this pain
Is killing my brain
